HOME DECOR FOLLOWING THE TRENDS

A real feast for those who pursue innovations in design and interior design trends will take place on 25-27 May in Poznan. During the HOME DECOR interior fair, the leading manufacturers of decoration materials, textiles, lighting and furniture will present proposals for the coming season.

The interior is the most important thing..

HOME DECOR is the largest fair dedicated to the interior design and finishing industry in the country. During the fair, the latest interior design solutions and inspirations will be presented under the same roof (hall no. 5 at Poznan International Fair). Among others, the exhibitors' displays and thematic exhibitions will include textiles, interior and patio decoration and kitchen and bathroom furniture and accessories. An important role in the thematic layout of the exhibitions will be given to lighting presented as a part of the specialised LUMINEXPO showroom. In addition, during the fair it will be possible to familiarise oneself with the offer of companies that provide comprehensive interior design and finishing services. For the people interested in deepening their expertise, there will also be plenty of market premieres and other proposals. As part of this year's HOME DECOR interior fair, numerous workshops and seminars on subjects such as using the Internet in the field of interior design have been scheduled.

for those who know the ropes

For professionals associated with the interior industry HOME DECOR is a must on their calendar. At the fair, the representatives of supermarkets, chain stores or hotels as well as designers, interior architects and developers will find something interesting for themselves. With the needs of exhibitors and the comfort of fair visitors in mind, a special scheme for the early planning of the fair meetings has been created. An additional facility at the fair will be the Hosted Buyers programme, which was launched last year. Thanks to it, our key customers will be able to take advantage of a number of privileges that help to arrive at the fair and organise a stay in Poznan.

Between architecture and design

Visitors to the HOME DECOR interior fair will also have the unique opportunity to participate in prestigious events dedicated to design and architecture. On 25-28 May, the arena DESIGN and moodFORM Design Fair events, which are widely acclaimed in the designers' environment, will also be held at Poznan International Fair premises. An exhibition of innovative design solutions and recognised design icons, discussion panels, debates concerning the place of design in business strategy and world-renowned guests connected with architecture and design - all of this will be waiting for people who want to visit halls 3 and 3A during these days.
